Hacking 4 Oceans
H4O 2020 starts March 2020!

Join UC Santa Cruz’s first cohort of students working to identify and tackle solutions to key coastal and ocean problems using Lean Design.

We’re seeking grad and undergrad students from across campus to work in teams to address complex problems critical to saving our oceans and coasts.

Application is by teams of four UC Santa Cruz graduate and/or undergraduate students from any school, department, or program. Limited enrollment by application.
